

UH-145: MADE FOR THE MISSION

DELIVERED

The U.S. Army selected the UH-145 in June 2006 to serve America as its new Light Utility Helicopter and the UH-145 industry team is already delivering. The UH-145 is an American-built, technologically advanced helicopter that will provide the best value to the Army and the American taxpayer. The Army's new LUH: proudly serving America and supporting our nation's defense and homeland security for decades to come.
